Convers Twycross Dies at 71

Convers L. Twycross, one of the early pioneers in Sierra Madre, died Wednesday morning after suffering a heart attack Sunday evening. He was 71 years old.

Born in 1886 in Mercer, Maine, Mr. Twycross came to Sierra Madre with his parents when he was one year old. He attended school in Sierra Madre and at Throop Polytechnic, which is now Caltech.

During his younger days he helped his father, the late S. R. G. Twycross, with a bus line he ran from the Santa Fe Station to the Mt. Wilson Trail.

He worked as a mining engineer for the first years out of school, but in 1913 he took a position with the Los Angeles Post Office where he worked until his retirement in 1951.

From 1929 until his retirement he was superintendent of the El Sereno Branch Post Office. He was a charter member of the El Sereno Kiwanis Club.

During his lifetime he was active in the First Congregational Church here, holding virtually all positions. He also was active in the local Masonic Lodge and was a lodge past master. He was secretary of the Sierra Madre Historical Society.

Since his retirement he has been helping his son, who has a contracting business in Whittier. Frequently he also stayed at his mountain cabin at Lake Arrowhead.

He is survived by his widow, Ruth; two sons, Randolph of Whittier, and Richard of Sierra Madre, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Friday at the Congregational Church with interment at Rose Hills in Whittier. The Ripple Mortuary Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Rescuers Bring Out Boy's Body

By Bill Wark

A hiking trip ended in tragedy Saturday for Robert Castelan, 16, of 9001 E. Arcadia in San Gabriel.

The boy's broken body was sighted at the foot of a high cliff in Lannon Canyon, four miles above the Santa Anita Ranger Station by Capt. Sewell Griggers, pilot of the Sheriff's helicopter, Sunday at 1 p.m.

His body was carried out of the rugged terrain by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team after a hazardous, two-hour effort to scale the jagged cliff down which the boy had plunged while apparently attempting to climb it.

Capt. Griggers had been called to aid the local rescue team after the 14 men had been searching unsuccessfully over the rain-soaked hills all Saturday night and Sunday morning. Forest Service Rangers and deputy sheriffs from the Temple City station were also in the search effort.

Robert was a boy who liked to explore the hills. He parked his bicycle near the Ranger Station early Saturday morning and started hiking up the canyon above.

When he failed to return by dark, his mother, Mrs. Robert F. Castelan, called the Search and Rescue Team. Responding to the call were Earl, Fred, Edward and Robert La Lone, Bill Adams, Herbert Herrick, Howard Miller, Minor Harkness, Charles Kessler, Jon Mathews, John Grippi, Bill Wolfson, Bill Wark and Don Jackson.

Charles L. Young, 214 Olivera Lane, was saluted Saturday by 70 friends from all over the Southwest as he completed 34 years with the U.S. Forest Service.

Mr. Young has been in charge of the Regional Materials Testing Laboratory in Arcadia for the past 18 years.

William Mendenhall, recently retired supervisor of Angeles Forest, was master of ceremonies at the retirement party which was held at the Pasadena Athletic Club and hosted by Forest Service members. Old friends came in from as far as Nevada City and northern California to honor Mr. Young.

Methodists Buy Mootie Property

Purchase of the house and property belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Frances D. R. Mootie at 689 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. was announced this week by the trustees of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church.

The parcel, which cost $40,000, lies immediately east of the church's present holdings and will add a land area 80 feet by 415 feet for the church's planned development program.

As soon as plans are completed for renovation the newly acquired house will serve as a temporary home for the minister and his family. This will enable the Church School and Youth Department to make full use of the Parish House.

Dr. Chilton McPheeters, pastor, said:

"This forward looking step will guarantee a future church plant capable of meeting the total family needs of a modern church program."

"The fact that the membership of the church has doubled in less than 12 months underscores the vital need for a long range and expansive program on the part of the congregation."

Come Back, Al, We Have a Bag To Hold, Too

Al Morgan, former vice president of the Bank of Sierra Madre and for three years president of the local Chamber of Commerce is back in the groove again.

He was elected last week to presidency of the Chamber of Commerce of Lucerne Valley where he and his wife ostensibly retired several months ago.

As first official duty, Mr. Morgan was left holding the bag—the first bag of cement to come from the new Permanente Cement Company located in the valley.

Beside these heavy activities, Mr. Morgan heads the Lucerne Valley Escrow Company.

Annual membership drive is on for Friends of the Library in preparation for the June meeting, election of officers and 1957-58 forecast of programs.

Since its inception in 1953, the organization has purchased shutters, chairs, a sound and movie projector, paintings and books; presented art exhibits and forums, films from the County Museum and several children's programs.

Memberships, which range from $1 to $100, can be obtained from Mrs. Bernard Tumilly, membership chairman, Elgin 5-9562.

Voters Guide Focuses On Basic School Issues

"Voters' Guide," a 16-page booklet discussing and documenting coming Pasadena School Board election issues, has been distributed to 3,500 individuals.

A research project of the Committees on Public Education, the booklet is both a review of the present School Board's record (including a full history of delay on high school construction) and a compilation of facts about Pasadena's economic resources, population growth, educational program and additional information pertinent to the June 7 election.

"THIS booklet is COPE's major campaign contribution," said the organization's chairman, John S. Moore.

"Our object in publishing it is threefold: first, to promote better understanding of public education in Pasadena; second, to focus attention on the basic issues that are at stake in the coming election; and, third, to help voters evaluate how candidates stand on these issues."

"COPE has not endorsed any candidates, but we hope that the facts as presented in this booklet will help to elect three new School Board members with constructive rather than destructive attitudes toward public education."

The booklet's first and longest section leaves no doubt that by "destructive attitudes" COPE means those of the type expressed by one outgoing Board member, Lawrence Lamb, and by one continuing member, Edgar Barratt.

"THE GUIDE states that Mr. Lamb and Mr. Barratt do not trust the administrative and teaching staff, are trying to run the schools themselves, and 'have put their faith in personal judgments, secret sessions and censorship.'"

"Voters' Guide" has been mailed to 3,500 individuals on COPE's regular mailing list as well as to additional community groups. Mr. Moore said that a limited number of extra copies are available at the COPE office, 259 S. Los Robles, Pasadena. Hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

These are the last films of the current Museum series presented by Friends of the Library. The programs, which have been well received in the community, begin again in the Fall.

Noel, Vannier Speak Before Service Group

Sierra Madre's Civic Service Group will have another double-barreled program for the May meeting at the Woman's Club Monday evening, May 20, according to Emil Smith, program chairman.

William Noel, city water works superintendent, will present another chapter on the important subject of "Our Water Supply." Every Southern California community is faced with the possibility of a devastating water shortage within the next decade. Sierra Madre is no exception, Mr. Smith pointed out.

The other half of the program will be devoted to the City Library and Webster Vannier, president of the Library Board, is expected to discuss some administrative problems of the library. Members of the group are asked to bring a guest.

Polio Shot Program Resumed in Area

The Los Angeles County Health Department yesterday resumed its polio immunization program for those under 40 years of age at special clinics scheduled throughout the 14 County Health Districts, according to Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, county health officer.

The anti-polio shots will be given in the Monrovia Health District as follows: Monrovia Health Center, 330 W. Maple, telephone EL 9-2581, Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays afternoons by appointment; Altadena Subcenter, 905 E. Mariposa, SY 7-8704, Monday through Friday afternoons by appointment; Duarte Health Center, 2026 E. Huntington, Tuesdays at 1:30 p.m. The clinics have been set up to give anti-polio inoculations to anyone under 40 years of age, because polio strikes young adults and children harder and more often than persons in the older age bracket, the health officer said. In some districts, special clinics will be scheduled for infants, preschoolers, and school children who were absent from school when the immunization team was present earlier.

Local Jeweler's Mother Dies

Funeral services were held Monday for Edith Carpenter Hopper, mother of Byron C. Hopper, Sierra Madre jeweler.

Mrs. Hopper, who was 86 years old, was a native of Indianola, Iowa. She made her home in Laguna Beach for a number of years, coming to Sierra Madre five years ago to live at 122 N. Baldwin.

She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy H. Eckert of San Gabriel; a sister, Mrs. Frank E. Egan of New York City, and four grandchildren.

School Election Friday; Don't Forget to Vote

Sierra Madreans will go to the polls tomorrow (Friday) to choose a new member of the Board of Education to succeed Dr. Milton Valois, who is not seeking reelection.

Polis at the Sierra Madre School will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and the vote will be canvassed starting at 8 a.m. Monday.

The four candidates running are G. Norman Kennedy, Kenneth Cleaver, Claude H. Brown Jr. and Hugh Colvin. They will speak tonight at 8 o'clock before the Lions Club in the Woman's Clubhouse here.

Honors, once removed, have descended on Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Mootie, longtime Sierra Madreans, whose eldest grandson just won the Standard Oil Foundation Chemistry Award.

Winner is Robert B. Smith, 19, whose parents are Dr. Graeme C. Smith and Mrs. Smith (the former Margaret Mootie). He is a chemistry major at Wheaton College, Illinois, where the Foundation scholarship will be applied.

In his freshman year, young Mr. Smith won the Chemical Rubber Company's Achievement Award in Illinois and tied for first place in that company's national competition. He is also an associate professor in chemistry at his college.

His parents, Dr. and Mrs. Graeme, grew up in Sierra Madre.

Councilman David Wood pointed out that a good master plan that will explore all problems thoroughly is essential, since a city-wide sewerage project would cost close to $1,000,000.

After prolonged discussion, the Council decided to wait until the new budget is prepared before accepting a bid.

Representing all local community organizations, the Sierra Madre Co-ordinating Council today issued a statement of gratitude to Charles A. Skutt, superintendent of schools, who leaves in June for a northern school district.

"In his 11 years as superintendent, Mr. Skutt has given unselfishly of himself and of his time not only to maintain high academic standards and a healthy atmosphere of learning, but also to serve the community in other capacities," the statement reads.

"His devotion to truly good education, his belief in democratic principles, his warm interest in our children, and his integrity and calm have won our admiration and esteem."

"UNDER HIS leadership our school system has expanded to accommodate adequately the growing student population of our town. The new Sierra Mesa building became a reality during his administration as well as four additional classrooms at the City School, enlarged play areas and improvements in existing buildings. The vital elementary school tax increase was passed and ten new employees joined the school staff."

"During these busy years Mr. Skutt also found time to serve as president of the Kiwanis and of Family Service and as chairman of the local Red Cross. He has been a member of many lay and professional committees for community improvement."

"Actually his record speaks for itself, but we would like to add a heartfelt thank-you to Mr. Skutt and our best wishes for his success in the future."

Need for Sewers Here Also Discussed

New methods of collecting rubbish after the ban on outdoor incinerators goes into effect were discussed at length by city councilmen Tuesday night.

The Council also explored the problem of sewerage.

Sierra Madre and listened to what must be described as a tirade by a local woman who claimed she has been harassed for many years by juveniles and that the Police Department will do nothing about it.

John Avedesian, local rubbish contractor, made two proposals, one involving backyard pickups and the other, curb service. The incinerator ban goes into effect county-wide on Oct. 1.

"It appears," said Mr. Cornyn, "that Mrs. Drobeck has been bothered by children since she moved to Sierra Madre six years ago."

Complaints have included alleged incidents about a barking dog, rocks thrown at her house, disturbances created by a motor scooter and numerous others.

The most serious, Mr. Cornyn said, involves two or more youngsters who last Halloween threw eggs and possibly other missiles at Mrs. Drobeck's house. This case is being investigated by the Los Angeles County Probation Department.

"IT IS my judgment," Mr. Cornyn said, "that the Police Department has done everything it can to help this lady. Neither the police nor the Council should be subject to any censure."

Mrs. Drobeck's complaints are based on a number of rather insignificant incidents aggravated by her own attitude. The lady is the author of her own misfortune. She is making a mountain out of a molehill."

Don't Forget to Vote

During past School Board elections in Sierra Madre less than 60 (in one case less than 30) people voted, a rather sad commentary on the amount of interest generated in our public schools.

Judging by the campaigning this year Friday's election promises to be an exciting affair.

There are four candidates seeking the one vacancy. There has been a great hue and cry over the proper role of religion in the public schools and the School Board currently is considering ways to raise more money to build additional classrooms.

These problems should bring out a good vote, although there are many skeptics who predict a total of about 100. A vote of 1,000, it is hoped, will be nearer the actual figure.

Variations of the phrase, "your most important investment is in the education of your children," has been said so often it's becoming trite. But, nevertheless, it is true.

So be sure to vote Friday for the candidate of your choice.—H.W.E.

Watch on the Potomac

THAT BIG, BAD BUDGET

everybody wants taxes cut. Every politician wants credit for cutting taxes. But whose taxes should be cut? Where is the fat in the national budget?

Here we are barely six months after a bitter national election and we find Republicans screaming "too big," while the Democrats are busily defending Eisenhower's national budget. It sounds crazy and it is crazy.

Certainly no well informed Washington correspondent doubts that there is tremendous waste in many branches of federal operations. There have been countless congressional investigations of this subject and the objective inquiries always end up pointing the finger in one direction, the biggest source of waste is in the Defense Department.

But there is hardly a member of Congress who will get up and talk about it. Yet 60 per cent of your tax dollar goes for "national security" projects. How much military money is misspent or sheer waste we shall probably never know.

YOU INVENT AN A-BOMB and within a year or two it's outmoded. Then you invent an H-bomb. Pretty soon it's out of date. Then the guided missile and on and on.

Does anyone propose taking a long, hard look at defense spending? Of course not.

While the pace of the arms race quickens, the battle for better schools proceeds with the speed of a snail. We hear solemn warnings from such "statesmen" as Sen. Byrd of Virginia and Bridges of New Hampshire that welfare programs must be trimmed so that the "children of the future" will have a solvent government.

But is that really the choice?

LOOKING at it through bankers' eyes—when Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Undersecretary Randolph Burgess talk of making cuts they are looking at the problem through bankers' eyes. Helping to build schools or raise ing the living standard in backward countries are not the kind of investments which pay quick or certain dividends.

Here again we return to this matter of armaments. Humphrey and Burgess, when speaking of foreign aid, do not include military "hardware"—jet planes to King Saud or tanks for other Arab potentates. They mean to cut down the things that might eliminate disease, trachoma, and malnutrition in those countries.

And when the propagandists talk of tax cuts, they don't necessarily mean you and me. A good mechanic, with a wife and two children, who earns $5,000 a year pays $16 in taxes. But a stockholder in a big corporation with the same income would pay only $206 in taxes.

And if he derived it from royalties on oil wells, he'd pay less.

IS THE BUDGET too big? Granted that there is considerable waste and inefficiency, not to mention special privileges for certain segments of big industry, is the budget too big? Most economists seem to think it has just about kept pace with (1) our growing population and (2) our expanding economy. The fact seems to be that, percentage-wise, the 1958 budget has shrunk from one-fifth of national output in 1954 to one-sixth right now.

None of this, of course, is consoling to people who feel their taxes are too high. But if we are going to cut, the place would appear to be in those military areas which were once described as "operation rat-hole." Certainly the place is not in schools, social security, old age pensions and similar projects where we now spend less than one-third of our tax dollar.

The suggestion that military outlays could be made more efficient may stir up a brand new controversy, but we are inclined to go along with the guy who said of guns and bombs, "Let's get more bang for a buck."

Candid Comments . . .

Parents Weren't So Dumb Dancing Cheek to Cheek

By Fred Edmunds

Seems to me that the musical fad of "Rock 'n Roll" in entertainment stages by the teenagers is beginning to wane. Which, by the way of comment, might make sense since today's teenager is often smarter than most people think.

But, regardless of this relatively higher intelligence, it also seems to me they are not quite as sharp as the teenager group of a few years ago—the parents of today's younger set.

I base this assumption on impressions gained after watching a "rock and roll" dance session. If it is exercise they are after, the boys should take up football and track and the girls might become active in swimming and hockey.

For the benefit of teenagers in the audience, I would like to submit a thought: If parental pressure and censure about so-called rock and roll is becoming a problem, you might try dancing again. It's really not as bad as it sounds.

Instead of casual clothes, such as you might wear every day, you get a chance to "doff up." The young gentleman (taking the positive for the moment) calls for looking like Tab Hunter in a new suit and you buzz off to the glamour of a ballroom.

Arriving here on your itinerary for the evening, there's a real live orchestra, waxed floors and something called music. Then, here comes the real thrill of dancing, slightly different from rock and roll, you actually get to hold your girl in your arms!

Now you may think your parents are slightly stuffy, but after trying this thing called dancing for awhile, I think you'll reach the conclusion that your Mom and Dad were really thinking. If you don't believe me, get them to tell you about some of their dances at the Rendezvous in Balboa or the "old" Palomar in Hollywood.

You might also like to research the romantic possibilities of dancing the shuffle or the Balboa. Of course, the orchestras will be different, in most cases. We can't replace the Glen Miller band. But Ray Anthony and the Commanders have come along. Harry James is still making music as is the Les Brown aggregation.

Yes sir, the day of the name bands and dancing just could be around the horizon and the teenager stands to benefit. Look at type of music being plugged by the disc jockeys and you get an indication.

I still say that it is best to dance with your arms around the girl. Maybe your parents were not stupid after all, eh?

Around the Square

Newspaper business has a lot of points and sometimes you encounter all of them at once. This produces a sensation akin to falling into an Indian tiger trap—with the sharpened sticks all aimed upwards.

There are weeks when, during the process of turning news into print, anything can happen and frequently does. When a typographical error appears, the editorial side has a strong desire to flee into the brush. This, to carry on the metaphor, is undoubtedly the way the tiger feels, too.

Last week was a dilly at The News. At the last crucial moment the paper had to go from 12 to 14 pages to accommodate ads. Pressure fell on everybody, reporters, linotype operator, compositor, press foreman. Finally, late and hurried, the paper rolled off the presses.

It was a good newsy paper—only slightly rearranged.

How do you get a head like:

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK AT MEET IN LONG BEACH when you know full well the candidates are going to speak at the Woman's Clubhouse on W. Sierra Madre Blvd.?

It's easy. The line IN LONG BEACH belonged on the other side of the page under LAST RITES FOR RICHARD JENSEN. But when the last line ran IN LONG BEACHU, so it was marked and sent back.

A new, corrected last line was set and then somebody went looking to see where it belonged. Finding a short two-line head on the candidates' story, he figured it needed the third line so he put it in.

Sometime later in the hurried night, the editor finds IN LONG BEACHU still staring him in the face. So he sends the proofs back again and this time the corrected line gets set and put in its proper place. This now gives us two heads, both ending 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, May 7, 1937—Mary Schwartz was unanimously elected president of the Junior Woman's Club. Other officers elected were: Muriel Tarr, vice-president; Alice La Lone, corresponding secretary; Elizabeth Pridham, recording secretary, and Mary Frances Brain, treasurer.

THERE is a traditional story about the dowager who beamed upon the reporter covering a soiree. "Ah," you newspaper reporters, you must meet such interesting people!"

"Yes, madame. And they are almost all other newspaper reporters."

WHICH fits in nicely with a letter from a fellow reporter who writes in response to last week's column question about who is the John who supplies all cycling scholars with book bags.

"You don't know who John is? Gal, you haven't been around. Kids have been carrying John's book bags for almost 50 years."

"John was John Drageset. He opened his shop in Pasadena in 1909 at 42 N. Fair Oaks. Then Fair Oaks was the main street and the best district in town. A bicycle built for two was standard commodity then."

"At one time, every kid in school also carried a ruler from John's shop. That would have been prior to the 1920s. John died about three years ago, but his two sons, Art and Norman, are carrying on at the same old stand, keeping the same name."

"Many customers are second generation John's bike-bag carriers, as former customers are bringing their sons into the store. 'So don't say 'Who's John' in that tone of voice. John is John and everybody knows who he is."

"Yours truly, 'Martha Coutant. 'P.S.: Stan went to grammar school with the Drageset boys. Sure dates us, does it not?"

Well, if Stan would stop carrying around that John's shop ruler, it wouldn't show us much.

America Seen Awakening To Necessity of Freedom

Rep. 21st District

Rep. 21st District

AMERICA TODAY is a different nation from 10 years ago. A measure of freedom has vanished. Our people have traded it for a promise that the federal government can provide them with more things that they used to provide for themselves. How false was this promise America is now discovering—but slowly.

Over the last several months we in Congress have witnessed a gradual re-awakening of the public. Our mail tells us of a revulsion to the monstrous size of the proposed federal budget and the staggering debt. What the letters are demanding, in so many words, is a return of that vanished freedom.

Why did it disappear? Check, if you will, the growth of "federal aid" projects over the last decade and I think you will find your answer.

In 1946, the federal government was paying out $770,776,000 in regular and emergency grants-in-aid. In 1956, ten years later, the federal government was paying out nearly five times that amount, or $3,753,000,000 under some 98 different grants-in-aid programs.

And under the proposed 1958 budget that Congress is now considering, the federal government will be asked to pay out $5,502,000,000 in grants-in-aid under some 111 old and new programs.

IS IT WORTH IT? Are we getting our money's worth from federal aid? Recently the New Jersey Taxpayers Association made a study. It discovered that of every dollar paid out by the federal government, 77 cents was returned directly to the states from which it originated. The other 23 cents was redistributed among other states, of course, after the federal government bit off a large chunk for "administering" the funds.

WHERE DO we go from here? Once a federal aid program starts, it begins to feed on itself.

When a federal aid program gets off the ground it is difficult to reduce and almost impossible to eliminate.

However, some of us in Congress are now attempting the impossible. At the risk of our own popularity—for it is ever popular to vote in favor of every appropriation and in favor of every tax cut—we are introducing bills to eliminate some of the multitude of federal aid programs and return the obligation to support them to the states and communities where they belong.

Sicily Is Still Productive In Grains, Olives, Lemons

By Edward Voorhees

In the ancient world, Sicily was known as the "Granary of Greece." Today, in its valleys, plains, and gardens it has still retained a rich productivity in small grains, grapes, olives, "red" oranges ("mandarini"), "sweet" lemons, citrons, and other fruits and vegetables.

I recall the fine large lemons wasting on the ground under the trees on the lawn or the Hotel Villa Igea overlooking the sea at Palermo. This particular species of lemon is so sweet that more than once I have seen people on the trains eating them in slices, not only to allay thirst but as a lunch, for their bland flavor, which pleasantly surprised me when I on one occasion accepted a slice at the invitation of a fellow passenger—a frequent gesture of hospitality in Sicily.

UP TO some 50 years ago, Sicily's lemons had for a long time been her most profitable crop in the huge amounts she exported to the United States. This went on until Florida, and then California, took over. While Sicily still retains the market for Italy and other parts of Europe, it is an infinitely smaller demand, and the supply is now partly furnished by Spain and north Africa.

With our present subdivision activities among the groves of southern California—and possibly Florida also—we may some day see Sicilian lemons again in great demand in the U.S.A. Sicily will be ready.

On my final day in Palermo I took the autobus for the little hilltown of Monreale, to revisit its magnificent cathedral, famous for its elaborate mosaics and unique cloisters. Our bus climbed for some six miles up the northeast rim of the vast amphitheatre, filled with the most luxurious vegetation and fittingly called "Conca d'Oro" (the Shell of Gold), rising gently from the sea to the surrounding mountains, all bathed in the clear late sunlight of a spring afternoon. Hastening across the town square, I entered the vast Cathedral.

THE SUNLIGHT was pouring through its great west window and upon the vast tessellated marble floor, and then by reflection upon its high ceiling and the wide band of gold, glass and marble picture-mosaics, beneath that circle the whole nave with more than life-size scenes telling the Bible story of man from Adam and Eve to Saints Peter and Paul.

The aisle mosaics picture Jesus as teacher and healer, and the vaulted apse pictures Him, much larger, in act of benediction, with the enthroned Madonna beneath with angels and apostles. A majestic scene.

But the usual silence of the sanctuary was not there. Modernity in the form of a motorized brush was cleaning the floor of the winter's mud, supervised and steered

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

I was so absorbed in my own broken arm that I forgot Dr. George Purnell's birthday party. Dr. Purnell is a Sierra Madrean of many distinctions. He was a member of the first class in dentistry graduated by any university in the world. Before that what dentists there were learned by doing apprentices to other dentists. Barbers were the recognized tooth-pullers in most places and there were no examining boards nor recognized standards.

About the middle of the 19th century one of the best dentists—in Virginia, I believe—pleaded with the University of Maryland to establish a school of dentistry and was told the university felt it beneath its dignity to graduate barbers.

The dentist next appealed to the University of Pennsylvania and got the same reply. So he started a "college" of dentistry in a private house in Baltimore and proved his point so well that after the war between the States the University of Maryland took over the school. It was the first class the university graduated, which included Dr. Purnell.

What skyscraping changes in dentistry (and its costs) since then!

DR. PURNELL has more distinctions. He went to Guadalajara, Mexico, and taught his skill to three other young men, who became the first examining board in Mexico, so that actually he brought about the standardization of dental practices in Mexico.

However, his most remarkable distinction since he was 90 years old comes from the fact that twice a year, on the average, he has gone back to Guadalajara and Mexico City on lengthy business trips, traveling alone and by bus until the last two years. You're a better man than most of us, Dr. George.

INCIDENTALLY, I'll bet a number of elderly folk in Sierra Madre can recall the time when one could practice dentistry in California without being examined or licensed.

SPEAKING of dentistry, why is it like pulling teeth to meet our quotas for the Red Cross and other necessary welfare agencies this year?

For years our town has been proud of its reputation for generosity, and once was the banner town of all America in Red Cross membership.

And now Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., 461 W. Grand View, has been named to head the Sister Kenny drive here. A lot of us will say there are too many drives. Yet there isn't one of us who, if he had the chance to restore a crippled child to health, wouldn't gladly give a few dollars. If face to face with that situation, nearly anyone would shell out the very last dollar he had, if necessary. Well, the Sister Kenny hospital is saving and restoring children continually, and it won't really hurt most of us to shell out a dollar or two—and every cent will help a grand cause.

'Sot Suppe' From Norway Is Real Palate Tickler

By TONI MAURIN
SY 7-9634

When Mrs. David Wood of 450 E. Highland gave me this recipe she informed me that it would probably sound terrible and that people might not want even to bother with it.

It sounds so intriguing to me that I can hardly wait to share with her many friends.

SWEET SOUP
(Or by the Norwegian name Sot Suppe)
This delightful palate tickler is started at least two days before you can serve it. Soak over night in enough water to cover: 1/2 lb. dried prunes, One cup raisins, 1/4 lb. dried apricots, lemon sliced very thin and then quartered.

One orange and one One cup sugar
One stick cinnamon
In the morning add one apple with skin, diced very fine, and more water.

Cook slowly for several hours until apples are transparent. When cooked add one large can black or white pitted cherries with juice. Allow to stand overnight and blend flavors. The next day add enough water to make approximately twice as much liquid as solids.

For each quart of sweet soup add one tablespoon of instant tapioca. Cook until slightly thickened. This soup is served hot as a main course with crackers or with a light buffet. It keeps a long time under refrigeration and really improves in flavor.

Mrs. Wood told me that this dish is a regular Yule eve traditional meal in their home, although they serve it at other times during the year. When she makes it she triples the recipe in order

Mrs. Wood comes from strict Norwegian background, her father being an immigrant from Norway and her mother second generation Norwegian. The customs and the tastes of the old country were strongly imbedded in her during her childhood and to this day she enjoys a foreign flavor in her life.

During the war in 1943 Mrs. Wood went to Los Alamos, a month or so after the project opened to work. It was there that she met Mr. Wood who also worked here. They were the only couple to be married in Fuller's Lodge, which was a dining lodge. Mr. Wood made his entrance to the kitchen, with the cooks bolstering him with coffee to steady his nerves.

After the war they moved to Sierra Madre where they became the sixth generation of Woods to live here. Mr. Wood is a Ph.D. on the staff of Cal-Tech. They have an 8-year-old daughter, Alison Janet, who attends school at Sierra Mesa.

Mrs. Wood has been active in the League of Women's Voters, as well as taking an interest in the Dramatic Play Reading Group of the Cal-Tech Women's Association. She has also been an assistant leader of a Blue Bird group. Mr. Wood is one of our city councilmen. * * *

Work is being done constantly and discoveries are being made by the Archeological Survey Association and graduate school at the University of Southern California.

Pictures of the progress will be shown by Roger De-sautels and Peter Redwine.

Eastern Star Plans Sunday Breakfast

Eastern Star members are sponsoring a breakfast next Sunday in the Masonic Temple from 7:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

Zoe Simpson, worthy matron and general chairman of the event, will be assisted by her officers and their husbands.

The annual "Star Point Night" was celebrated at the group's last meeting.

Those Star Points honored at this time were Madge Bowling, Adah; Jeannine Gunkel, Ruth; Mary Basil, Esther; Ella Rossel, Martha; and Hazel Woodward, Electra.

When refreshment time arrived, guests found each Star Point had her own table, centered by a cake decorated with her emblem. The head table held a large cake with a replica of the Star, in its true colors. These lovely cakes were decorated by Mary Basil.

ALA Aux Poppy Days May 24-25

Members of American Legion Auxiliary will meet May 23 in the home of Mrs. Rudolph Galkin, 110 E. Mira Monte.

Those members selected as delegates and alternates to the coming Department of California American Legion and Auxiliary convention to be held at Long Beach, Calif., at a recent meeting were Mrs. Leila Embree, Mrs. Helen Wheeler and Mrs. Ocelia Henderson, delegates, and Mrs. Lucille Pickett, Mrs. Kitty Miller and Mrs. Amy Beisel, alternates.

Announcement was made that May 24 and 25 had been selected as "Poppy Days." Members of the American Legion Auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will circulate through town selling the veteran-made poppies.

The same organizations will meet at Sierra Madre Cemetery on May 29 at 2 p.m. to decorate graves of veterans and ex-service women. Donations of flowers will be greatly appreciated and may be left at the VFW Clubhouse or the Yarn Shop in the hotel building.

The next District meeting will be held Monday in the American Legion Clubhouse on N. Marengo Ave. in Pasadena.

The group voted $25 to be used in child welfare work. News was received that Ina Kay left this week for Marchand, Pa., where she will spend the summer with her sister.

Lotta Hopper is a patient at White Memorial Hospital following eye surgery and Lee High of Long Beach is confined in Torrance Hospital.

Awards and decorations were presented to 47 cadets in the Air Force ROTC unit of the California Institute of Technology yesterday at a ceremony and review held in Tournament Park.

Mrs. Loren Smith Heads Club Drive For Sister Kenny

Announcement was made this week by Mrs. Claude Brown, volunteer Sierra Madre City chairman, of the appointment of Mrs. Loren Smith, 331 Ramona, as clubs and organization chairman for the Sister Kenny Foundation's annual fund raising campaign during this month for $450,000.

Mrs. Edward Verreux, 725 W. Grand View, will act as publicity chairman.

The Kenny Foundation, through public support, operates and maintains the Sister Kenny Memorial Hospital and Rehabilitation Center in El Monte, one of the few accredited hospitals in the United States specializing in treatment and rehabilitation of victims of all types of neuromuscular diseases, as well as polio.

"The need for club participation in this program at this time is urgent," Mrs. Smith said, "for the success of the crucial 1957 campaign to raise funds is directly dependent upon the number of volunteers devoting their time and effort to it."

The evening of May 22 has been designated as "drive night" in Sierra Madre. Those who are not contacted may send contributions to Mrs. Brown at 461 W. Grand View.

MEMORIAL PARADE

The 37th annual Memorial Day parade and program will be held Thursday, May 30, at Rose Hills Memorial Park near Whittier. It was announced yesterday by Stuard H. Purvines, chairman of the Whittier Joint Veterans Committee for Memorial Day, and John D. Gregg, Rose Hills president.

Girls Laud Mrs. Waite For Devotion to Community

MRS. WILLIAM WAITE AND LINDA

Mrs. William Waite, prominent in Sierra Madre's civic and youth affairs, was surprise honor guest at a Mothers' Day tea Saturday afternoon given by Chi-Ko-Da
Camp Fire Girls at the home of their leader, Mrs. Helmut Vorster.

Honored for her unselfish devotion to community affairs, the girls brought out in a "Queen for a Day" skit
her interest in PTA, Camp
Fire Girls, Cub Scouts, Red Cross and other civic and charitable organizations.

Some 40 guests were in attendance, including mothers of the girls, Mrs. Waite's mother, Mrs. John Cunningham, and other members of her family; Mrs. Charles Fretz, PTA president, and
Mrs. Barbara Hollowell,
Camp Fire field director.

Girls made dainty tea refreshments which they served from a table decorated in lavender and white and centered with spray orchids.

Pouring tea and coffee were
Mrs. Norman Shanks, president of the Camp Fire Leaders' Association of Sierra
Hastings; Mrs. Warner
White, representing the group's sponsor; the Sierra Madre Women's Club, and
Mrs. Anthony Briglio, Mrs.
Vorster's assistant. Also assisting was Mrs. Harold Clardy.

Mrs. Waite received a corsage of orchids, and was adorned in royal robes with orchid crown to receive her
"court" and watch the "royal ballet." Her special gifts were a compact and a huge box which she was told was an "automatic dishwasher," but which she opened to reveal her seventh grade daughter, Linda.

Girls taking part in the program were Esther Briglio,
Barbara Paige, Carrie Stone,
Joanne Vorster, Cathy Clar-
dy, Nora Justice, Laurie Zurn and Susan Rempel.

son who will present a musical program.

sisted by Mrs. George Lafkas,

WHEN

Menne Pitches No-Hit Shutout in Yankee Win

By Charles Abbe

YANKEES 16-ORIOLES 0
Mike Menne pitched a no-hit shutout game last Tuesday to lead his Yankee teammates to a 16-0 victory over the Orioles.

The Yankees, playing heads-up ball all the time, struck at very few poor pitches as they drew 11 bases on balls from three Oriole pitchers—Doug Spencer, Shirk and Weston. Menne gave up six walks.

RED SOX 6-INDIANS 4
Whatever else may be said for this game, it wasn't dull! It began with the Indians scoring four runs in the first two innings, on a home run by Rich Schoren, and ground rule doubles by David Caswell and Jim McRoberts.

The score was 4-1 until the last of the fifth when the Red Sox batters found the range of the Indian pitchers, knocking two out of the box and scoring five runs to win.

BRVES 4-DODGERS 3
While obviously a close game, it was also a hard fought one, with the Dodgers having the tying run on second base as Foxton struck out the last Dodger batter in the sixth inning.

The game was marked by some very alert base running and many hard hit balls—one almost sweeping the pitcher and Dave Summers, the umpire, off the diamond.

Kenneth Cleaver Gets Professional Legal Award

In an announcement made this week in Los Angeles, Kenneth Cleaver, Sierra Madre attorney, was awarded a citation for service by Sigma Delta Kappa, the nation's third largest legal fraternity. The citation was given Mr. Cleaver for his recently completed tenure as grand chief justice, a national office which many prominent legal figures have held in years past.

Mr. Cleaver is a member of Alpha Xi Chapter of the legal organization which presented the engraved citation in private ceremonies in Los Angeles this week. Many judges, attorneys and representatives of the legal community were in attendance.

Before entering the practice of law, Mr. Cleaver was for many years connected with the Federal Courts and the Department of Justice in Southern California. He currently is a candidate for the School Board in Sierra Madre.

Hjordis Parker Film Tonight In Monrovia

The colorful life of the world's oldest kingdom, Denmark, and her largest island, Greenland, will come to life on the screen when Hjordis Parker of Sierra Madre brings to the Monrovia-Duarte High School auditorium her color film on the people of Denmark and Greenland on the evening of May 16, at 7:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Parker is a native of Norway, having come to the United States from her birthplace, Oslo, at the age of 7. Her father served in the Norwegian Consular Service for many years. She became an American citizen and later a student of journalism at the University of California and Washington.

Take your problems to Church this week

— millions leave them there! —

As the Twig Is Bent

In our nation we need executives, statesmen, judges, teachers, true promoters and, yes, ministers.

What we want in the nation we must put into schools and churches for the principles, purposes and plans of our whole people are being forged there. The church schools of higher learning are especially dedicated to this purpose.

Any child who is potentially a minister and shows an inclination and natural bent for that profession should have all possible encouragement both moral and financial. Whether he be our own son or the son of others we owe it to ourselves and to our nation to aid him. The church of his faith will help him, therefore, if for no other reason, some church needs your support in this noble work.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

BASIC RECIPE IS HANDY
Good basic recipes with tasty variations are mighty handy to have in your collection of good-to-serve dishes. A fine tomato aspic belongs in your file of molded salads.
The gay color and refreshing flavor of tomato aspic makes it a popular salad selection on many menus. Shape it in a single large mold for buffet serving—in individuals for regular table service.

TOMATO ASPIC
(Basic Recipe)
1 Tbsp. unflavored gelatin
1/2 C. cold tomato juice
1/4 C. hot tomato juice
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 Tbsp. lemon juice

Soften gelatin in cold tomato juice. Add to hot tomato juice and stir to dissolve. Add seasonings and lemon juice. (If you like a bit of sugar in your tomatoes, go ahead. A teaspoonful of sugar is about right.) Pour mixture into four individual molds (or one large one) that have been rinsed with cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve on crisp salad greens.

SPICY TOMATO ASPIC
Follow basic recipe for Tomato Aspic. To the hot tomato juice add:

1 small bay leaf
3 whole cloves
Few celery leaves
Sprig of parsley
Slice of onion

Simmer 10 min. Strain and proceed as in the basic recipe.

PERFECTION ASPIC
Make basic recipe of Tomato Aspic. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in:

1 C. finely shredded cabbage
1/2 C. diced celery
3 Tbsp. chopped green pepper

Divide into six individual molds or put into one large mold. Chill until firm.

CUCUMBER-OLIVE ASPIC
Make basic recipe of Tomato Aspic. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in:

1 C. sliced cucumber
1/2 C. sliced stuffed olives
Divide into six individual molds. Chill until firm.

Council . . .

Mrs. Drobeck, who was in the audience, immediately protested. She said that "crimes" had been committed, that neither the police nor the Council apparently cared and that she was being discriminated against. She insisted that the police worked secretly and that nobody would tell her what legal steps she should take to remedy the situation.

On several occasions, Mayor James had to ask Mrs. Drobeck to quiet down. On the whole, though, the Council handled the situation with remarkable equanimity.

In other action, the Council:

1. Urged residents of Carter Ave. to decide whether they wish to have their street repaved on a cash basis or form an assessment district.
2. Referred to the Parks and Recreation Commission the problem of moving the Youth Hut to a new location. The hut will have to be moved because its present location interferes with work on the swimming pool in the City Water Grounds.
3. Authorized the mayor and city clerk to execute the contract for the new pool.

Demos Plan Party Day On May 21

The Sierra Madre Democratic Club met recently at the home of Ray Johnson in Sierra Madre Villa to make plans for Democratic Party Day, May 21, when Democrats all over the nation will gather to listen to nationally broadcast greetings from national leaders.

Definite plans could not be made because the hour of the broadcast had not yet been decided, but Mrs. Margaret Lathe, president of the club, will have that information soon.

Mrs. Lathe displayed an enlarged map of Los Angeles County, issued by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, showing how huge some Congressional and Assembly districts are as compared to others. In some districts the population is more than twice that in others.

Mrs. Lathe said there are 300,000 more Democrats than Republicans registered in the county, but the boundaries have been so drawn that most of them are in only four of the very large districts, with the result that the county always elects eight Republicans and only four Democrats to Congress.

The Richards bill, now before the Legislature, requires that there should not be a variance of more than 15 per cent in population between districts. California's population is growing so that in 1960 it will be entitled to seven more Congressmen, and redistricting will be necessary.

Amount of Blood Used Here Is More Than Contributions

Residents of Sierra Madre used more Red Cross blood in the last year than they contributed, according to Mrs. Gifford P. Eastwood, chairman of the local Red Cross Blood Program.

Urging residents to donate blood during the May 27 visit of the Bloodmobile, Mrs. Eastwood stressed the fact that "we have not kept pace with the growth of the community in our participation in the blood program."

Last year 222 pints of blood were used by local residents while only 209 pints were contributed. Residents may, of course, obtain Red Cross blood through the generosity of people in other communities, Mrs. Eastwood said.

Appointments can be made by calling Red Cross Headquarters, ELgin 5-0745. Child care will be provided.

VILLA
VIEWSBy Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

I sat myself down briefly the other day to do some mental arithmetic on the amount of time I am saving with all of the appliances that I have in my home. With all my wonder-working devices I should have just hours left over for leisure, but somehow, there just aren't enough hours in the day to do all the things I thought of the night before.

It was then that I realized that I spend all of my leisure driving the car. I don't mean driving for pleasure, but the toting kind of driving. Living, as we do, in the hills, it is too far for the children to walk almost anywhere but to the mail box. Public transportation in this area is so poor that the children are isolated or they are tooted. They can't even safely go down into the parks without adult supervision, as it is an invitation to the many unsavory characters that lurk around looking for unsuspecting prey. I sometimes wonder if our domestic advances are worth the great price we pay.

MR. AND MRS. GARDNER P. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Jaxheimer had a lovely 5 to 7 cocktail party last Sunday at the Wilson home at 1435 Old House Road. The party was honoring Miss Julie Pyle and her fiancé, 1st Lt. Ron Perry. This was one of many parties honoring the couple and included many of her neighborhood and school friends. There were about 65 guests in all.

THERE WAS a great Mother's Day celebration in the W. H. Dunning household at 3323 Barhite. Mrs. Dunning came home with their new baby girl, born at the Huntington Memorial Hospital on May 5. They named her Kimberly Helen and she weighed in at 7 pounds, 11 ounces. She has two sisters, Tracy, 6, and Cindy, 5, and a brother, Hal, 2. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Love of Berkeley, Calif.

PEOPLE WONDERING what all the activity was on Wynn Road the other day will be interested to know that the Pember house was one of the three houses on the Junior Shakespeare tour. There were about 80 people on the tour, and Mrs. Pember opines that it is the best way in the world to get your spring housecleaning done without any fooling around. Have a tour and then relax.

MRS. F. WAYNE Furstenberger of 3126 Meyer Lane has been very active in her musical society, the Sigma Alpha Iota, of late. They just recently presented two musical scholarships to students at Occidental College. There was a musical meeting with Dr. Swan of the Music Department presiding. Last Saturday they had the final luncheon meeting of the Sigma Alpha Iota Inter-chapter Council at her home. Mr. Furstenberger is still in Seattle and points north on a business trip.

IF YOU WANT to get a strong reaction, mention the password, "peacock," to Mrs. Jack Paschall Jr. She'll take off for the wild blue yonder.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM F. Nash Sr. came up from San Diego to be with the Junior Nashes at 3100 Mesa Lane last weekend.

DR. AND MRS. RAND Lewis have moved into their new home at 3170 Mesa Lane recently. They have a daughter, Randle, 6, and a son, Frank, 10, who attend the Chandler school in Altadena. They have a lovely land on a two-acre piece of land. Mrs. Lewis says they are busy trying to get one of the acres in condition, the other being left for their two horses, two dogs and five cats.

Hastings Ranch Unit of the League of Women Voters of Pasadena will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Conrad Walburger, 510 Pembroke Dr., on May 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Young Republican

Hear J. M. Brown

The Foothill Young Republicans' Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bacon, 2850 Greenhill Rd., Hastings Ranch, Forty-four members attended.

Richard Pember, club president, presided over the meeting. He introduced the guest speaker, Joseph M. Brown, who is an international representative of the Typographical Union.

As a registered Democrat, Mr. Brown presented his views regarding his party, the union movement and its accomplishments. Following his short talk he spent an hour and 45 minutes answering questions from the group.

Mrs. Dixie DuBois announced at the meeting that the San Gabriel Valley Council of the Boy Scouts accepted the club's offer of a flag that has flown over the Capitol building in Washington, D.C. The flag was donated to the club by Congressman Hiestand.

The Foothill Young Republican Club also discussed plans for its current membership drive. Persons living in the Pasadena-Sierra Madre-Arcadia area may contact Mrs. Doris Harris at ELgin 5-3622 for information.

Next monthly meeting of the club will be held June 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly, 565 Florida Rd., Arcadia.

Club Juniors
Fete Mothers
At Dinner

Shakespeare Club Juniors chose "It's a Woman's World" as the title of the dinner party they gave last evening honoring their mothers.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Langdon H. Tannehill, president, who later retired in favor of Mrs. Stanley A. Newlin Jr., newly-elected president.

Miss Helen Louise Taylor, senior vice president, also installed Mrs. Lawrence B. Hendrickson vice president; Mrs. Walter E. Ziegler, secretary; Mrs. Ralph B. Darr Jr., treasurer; Mrs. William M. Laub, membership; Mrs. Edward P. Fleischer, entertainment; and Mrs. Alan J. Wurts, press chairman.

Also, Mrs. Elmore G. Cushman, literature; Mrs. Stuart N. Cypher, drama; Mrs. Daniel H. Rogers, sports, and Mrs. Richard S. Spajian, arts and crafts.

Following installation, the drama section, under the direction of Mrs. Donald W. George, presented a skit of the past year's activities. Musical numbers were sung by a trio, Mrs. Lawrence B. Hendrickson, Mrs. Pelletier H. Supple and Mrs. John M. Barnell.

Honored guests were Mrs. N. Seymour Dasher, president of the Shakespeare Seniors; Mrs. Helen Louise Taylor, vice-president; Mrs. H. Fred Peterson, Mrs. L. Sherman Trusty, senior advisors; Mrs. Perley M. Cox and Mrs. Otis G. Mercer.

Assisting with plans for the dinner and decorations were Mrs. Cecil H. Shirar, Mrs. William R. Dobschütz, Mrs. W. Freeman Robbins, Mrs. Roger W. Maxson and Mrs. Alan J. Wurts.

Mrs. Donald E. Garner and Mrs. Richard S. Spajian, co-chairmen of the banquet, used women on top of world globes, in miniature, for table decorations.

CALTECH LECTURE

"What's Happening to the Automotive Power Plant" is the title of this week's Friday Evening Demonstration Lecture at the California Institute of Technology. The lecture will be given by Dr. Peter Kyropoulos at 7:30 in Room 201, Norman Bridge Hall of Physics.

Water conservation will be the topic for discussion. Is the U.S. a "have not" nation in regard to water resources. Should an influx of population be allowed in areas of water deficit? Are we losing the battle for flood control? What should be the role of the federal government in erosion and soil conservation?

The meeting is open to the public. For further information call Mrs. Ralph Gann, ELgin 5-2039, or Mrs. Carl Shafer, ELgin 5-3758.

Candidates' meetings to prepare voters for the June 7 Board of Education election are being sponsored jointly by the League of Women Voters and the Pasadena Council of Parents and Teachers. The meetings will be held at 8 p.m. as follows:

May 16, Wilson Junior High, 300 S. Madre.

May 20, La Canada Junior High, 1100 Foothill, La Canada.

May 23, Washington Junior High, 1490 N. Raymond.

May 27, Eliot Junior High, 2184 N. Lake, Altadena.

June 3, San Rafael Elementary, 1090 Nithsdale.

Acceptances of the invitations to speak and answer written questions from the audiences have been received from five of the seven candidates, Mrs. LuVerne La Mott, Miss Mabel Fossler, Walter T. Stafford II, Steve Salisian and Dr. D. L. Anderson.

AOPI Alumnae
Have Luncheon

Mrs. Charles T. David, Glendale, chaired the luncheon, with Mrs. Kenneth W. Crawford in charge of decorations. Mrs. Frank G. Wheeler Jr., president of the Pasadena alumnae. These Pasadenaans attended the event:

Mrs. Edwin E. Green, Mrs. William P. Knight, Mrs. Wendell S. Wilson, Mrs. Philip G. Smith, Mrs. Robert J. Wick, Mrs. John Powell, Mrs. Jack Albers, Mrs. Patrick Scott, Mrs. Ralph W. Smith and Mrs. Chase Wickersham.

The Horseless Carriage Club spent a wet but nice weekend. Saturday they went on a mystery tour in their old cars. Each carload received a slip of paper with a list of things they must find. This was a scavenger hunt, but it was suggested that they not try to bring the items back but write their names down on the paper instead. Some of the things spotted were farms, road signs and colors.

Sunday, prizes were given to the winners of the mystery tour. Disneyland was toured and everyone really had a blast. Of course, they all dressed up to go with their cars. Elaine Eastwood, Nancy Collier, Carolyn Dawson and Jenny Klusmier were among those attending.

"HAPPY BIRTHDAY Judy" was the theme of Sue Hubley's party Friday night. Many kids attended to see Judy Vogel presented the gift of Bermuda and a blouse that they chipped in to buy. After Judy modeled her outfit everyone danced, ate cake and in general had a good time.

SINCE I am a senior I am very sorry to say that the juniors won the "Dig Out the Dug Out" campaign. They will receive an assembly put on by the teachers before the end of the year. Speaking of assemblies, the science assembly last Friday, put on by Caltech, was really great. There were times when I thought the auditorium would burn up, blow up or blast off for the cold side of the moon where you lose your toes.

WITH the final elections at Wilson drawing near, all the finalists are very busy campaigning. Everyone in the running is very busy making posters and as a result there are poster parties. Linda Dittberner, who along with Doug Dexter is in the running for president, threw one such party.

MEMBERS of the Compass Rose, Mariner ship, will attend the GAM at Cachuma Dam above Santa Barbara. The girls will leave by bus from the Scout House in Pasadena at 2 Friday afternoon. Kids attending from this ship are Sharon Linder-smith, Susan Grant, Carolyn Howell, Sheila Donnell, Judy Jennings, Molly Slininger, Ellen Lowe, Hermalin Hodges, Sarah Kulberg, Jane McCawley and Pat Smith.

On Mother's Day, last Sunday, all the kids (well, almost all) greeted their mothers with trinkets, doo-dads and other gifts, with some of them visiting grandmothers, too.

LAST WEEK the Jobs of Bethel 128 had a "come as you are" party. Boy, what fun getting kids out of bed around 6:30 a.m. That night all the Jobs in Pasadena had a dance at the big temple in Pasadena. Ingrid Magnuson was chosen queen of the dance, and mighty pretty she was, too.

Y-TEENS of the ninth grade at Marshall are planning to have a hay ride this coming Saturday, May 18, from 8 to 11 p.m. We also are planning to rent a bus for transportation to the scene. As is true with most hay ride parties, this one promises to be a lot of fun. All the gals are excited about it.

JOYCE TENER has returned from a trip to Pennsylvania. All reports say she had a very nice time, especially not having to attend school for quite a while. Glad to have you back, Joyce.

LAST SATURDAY Bonnie Leslie left for Michigan—Detroit to be exact—to live. She surely will be missed by a lot of kids, but hope she will like it there.

"SPRING FLING!" The last senior dance of the year was held last Friday night in the Marshall gym with the kids dancing to the tunes of Eddie Jackson's band. Decorations were done in spring pastels. We had a real ball! Among the kids who joined in the fun were Carole Rees, Andrea Vingoe, Steve Samers, Chris Crawford, Sharon Knickrehm, Ingrid Magnuson, Chris Baker, Carol Colvin, Judy Morelli, Chuck Hix, Sara Bolar, Kella Pratt, Steve Chapman, Linda Bauer, Sharon Schrank, Barbara Brown, Pat Kaponya, John Ogren, Steve Brubaker, Irene Gutmann, Toddy Draeger, Bobby Olds, Lillian Gutmann, Gordon Young, Sandra Tavis, Kent Beard, Judy Mortensen, Paul Muhlberger, Carol Patterson, Judy Gibson, Judy MacLain, Lloyd Keesee, Cynthia Ellet, Mike Tibbs, Bob Calder, Carole Glazer, Mike Collins, Marcia Baer, David MacIntire, Franklin Wayne and yours truly. 'Twas a lot of fun.

So long, kids, see you next week.

Install Officers

A new slate of officers was installed by the Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club, with James Cairns, area governor of Toastmasters, presiding over the installation ceremonies.

New officers are Robert Milo, president; Dr. Frank Page, educational vice president; Edward Cutler, administrative vice president; Ross Morgan, treasurer; Robert Friend, sergeant-at-arms.

As is customary with Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club, wives of members were invited to attend this semi-annual installation meeting, held at Rancho Hillcrest Restaurant. A cocktail hour preceded the dinner meeting.

William Petit Jr. was toastmaster for the extemporaneous table topics. Winning talk was given by James Cairns, who had the task of taking the role of the late Ezio Pinza and praising Elvis Presley before a fictitious teen-age audience.

The toastmaster of the evening was Ross Morgan, who presented his panel of four speakers: Dr. Frank Page, Vice Harris, George Mannschreck and John DuBois. Giving his second speech to the club, Mr. Harris was voted best speaker with a talk entitled "The Meat of It." Mr. Mannschreck was selected the most improved speaker.

Las Jardineras Set Paris Party At Yves' May 25

Pink invitations vied in black lace are out for the "Evening in Paris" dinner dance planned May 25 for Las Jardineras members and husbands at Yves' in Duarte. This is the annual spring party of the club when members lay aside their talk of landscaping and decorating and children's hospital projects to just get together for fun.

The planning committee includes Mrs. Peter Hurtig, Mrs. Draper Jennings, Mrs. Peter Lubisch and Mrs. James White.

Alpha Phis Install Officers

Installation of newly-elected officers highlighted the meeting of Pasadena area Alpha Phi held last night in the San Marino home of Mrs. Robert Nuccio, 2563 Fairfield.

Those members of the executive board participating in the event were Mrs. James R. Chadwick, president; Mrs. W. B. Hume, vice president; Mrs. Donald J. Singer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William T. Harper, recording secretary; Mrs. John K. Miles, treasurer; and Mrs. Dunbar Burdick, quarterly correspondent.

The evening's entertainment included a "White Elephant" exchange.

Garden Notes... Nearly All Plants Grow Well in Patio Containers

Container gardening in tubs on a terrace or patio offers the great advantage that many plants will grow in this fashion—meaning the field of selection for container gardening is broad.

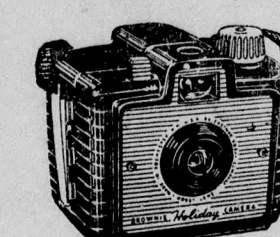

Of course, there are many types of plants that are best suited for container cultivation, says the California Association of Nurserymen, but this group includes trees, shrubs, succulents, flowering bushes, bulbs; in other words, just about every type of plant there is.

Especially outstanding in large tubs for a patio when you want some shade provided by growing things are the tree wisteria and the Japanese maple. The tree wisteria (Daubentonia Tripeti) is actually a fast-growing shrub to 8 or 10 feet in height and 6 to 8 feet in width with fern-like leaves, showy clusters of yellow and orange red flowers from spring through summer, followed by winged pods. The tree wisteria does very well in full sun and high heat; prune in late fall for new flowering wood.

INVALUABLE in a tub planting, the Japanese maple (Acer palmatum) is an airy and delicate tree to 20 feet providing year-round interest. In spring the young growth is scarlet, summer's leaves are green, and in fall the foliage turns scarlet; wintertime brings shades of greens and reds to the leafless branches. The Japanese maple can be grown dwarf and can be pruned for interesting effects.

FIRE FLAMES

By James Heasley

The reduction in the number of fires and the saving of property—and lives—has been noteworthy since field inspections by fire departments have been in effect. For the most part, these inspections have been made by full-paid fire departments, as a part of their regular jobs. It is positive proof that taking the fire prevention story directly to the public—in the factory, in the homes, offices and shops, even into the schools—is beneficial and pays.

This sort of work is being done by the local firemen when it is possible to do so. Being a volunteer department, it cannot be expected that the inspections be thorough. We can only keep in touch with residents by publicity through our local newspaper and continuous alertness to hazards. Homeowners must realize the danger of accumulations of inflammable materials left about the premises, if we are to continue our well-earned low fire loss.

A man with a big cigar, was riding along in his car. The darn thing was lit, when he gave it a flip. The hills were afire, near and far.

AFTER WHAT seemed like hours, the doctor emerged from the examination room and addressed himself to the fireman.

"Sir, your wife has quinsy," he said. "Omigosh," exclaimed the fireman, "That makes fifteen!"

BECAUSE we are unable to visit your homes to offer suggestions as to how to avoid dangerous fire and to keep fire from spreading, we earnestly ask that every effort be made to keep the premises clear of loose piles of light wood, stacks of paper boxes, old furniture and all similar materials that can create much heat when fire reaches it—even though the fire may not start there. And then, again, the sight of rubbish and other unsightly things are not the nicest things to look at.

Weeds and such have about completed their growth and it won't be long until the brown color and dryness develops. Much of this growth has reached points in some yards that if a fire gets started it could well set fire to nearby buildings, including homes. Play safe and get rid of them early.

Remember, the long dry spell will soon be here. Along with it comes the anxiety and hope that fire does not get started. No one knows just how far a fire can go.

We cannot always stop them from growing very large, so we had better stop them before they get started. We can do this by keeping matches away from children, making certain that cigars, cigarettes and any other burning substance is entirely extinguished before leaving it.

Hilltoppers Enjoy Play

The Hilltoppers, a group of upper Ranch young married couples, chose the Pasadena Playhouse for its "May Outing."

Following the seeing of Edward Everett Horton's delightful comedy, members gathered at the Bud Marris home, 3815 Denair, for after theater refreshments. Mrs. Marris was assisted by Mrs. Carder Dennis.

Also in attendance at the festive event were Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Atley Bussey, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moon.

Death of Sen. McCarthy Points Up Hepatitis Boost

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

The death of Sen. Joseph McCarthy from hepatitis gives emphasis to the startling increase in the number of reported cases of this liver infection.

Only a generation ago, hepatitis was considered a rare disease. Today it is third on this country's list of most common infectious diseases, and is rated in many areas as one of our most formidable public health problems.

Hepatitis, or jaundice, is caused by a virus that produces a severe inflammation of the liver. The inflammation may be in the liver cells, in cells lining the blood vessels of the liver, or in the tissue spaces between groups of cells.

ACTUALLY, there are two types of hepatitis, infectious and serum. They are contracted in different ways. Infectious hepatitis gets into the blood stream through the mouth, while serum hepatitis is introduced into the blood through injection.

The importance of the liver in maintaining good health is the reason why hepatitis is of serious consequence. The liver performs many chemical tasks.

One function is to secrete bile, a necessary aid to digestion. In the process, waste products are eliminated from the body through the intestinal tract, and bile salts essential for rebuilding body tissue and new cells are sent to the gallbladder for storage, to be released when needed.

When hepatitis develops, the liver enlarges, and its manufacturing ability is impeded. A "backing up" process takes place. Bile seeps into the blood stream whence it is carried to all parts of the body, producing jaundice, or yellow coloring of the patient's skin. Jaundice does not develop in all cases, however.

Hepatitis may develop gradually or suddenly. Usual symptoms are low grade fever, loss of appetite, uneasiness, fatigue, headache, nausea, vomiting, light-colored stool and pain in the right upper portion of the abdomen.

THERE IS NO specific treatment for the disease. The doctor's main concern is to ease the symptoms and to prevent further damage to the liver. A nutritious diet, consisting chiefly of carbohydrates, is important in the management of hepatitis.

Bed rest is extremely important, not only because of the patient's great fatigue, but to prevent recurrences.

Cleanliness and good sanitary facilities will do much to prevent hepatitis. And, willing though the donor may be, a person who has ever had hepatitis should not give blood transfusion. This will help to eliminate the risk of serum hepatitis from blood banks. Hepatitis seldom kills. In Sen. McCarthy's case, it was weak condition due to previous illnesses. It is estimated that only three to five deaths occur for every thousand cases of hepatitis.
